

Asda's 'eggcellent' gesture to Broomhouse Young Carers

Asda Chesser has donated 50 Easter eggs to Broomhouse Young Carers thanks to kind-hearted colleagues and customers who supported the supermarket's Easter egg appeal.

The Broomhouse Centre provides personal, social and community development opportunities for disadvantaged groups in the areas of Health / Community Care, Education / Training, Social Inclusion / Outreach Activities for people of all ages in Edinburgh.

The collection was arranged by the Asda store's Community Life Champion, Linda Anderson, who commented: "We had an amazing response to our Easter egg collection and I would like to say a very big thank you to everyone who contributed.

"It's amazing how much joy a little chocolate egg can bring and it was great to be able to help put a smile on the faces of people in the local community."

Abigail Jackson, at Broomhouse Young Carers, said: “It was a lovely surprise from Asda and we are all very grateful for the donation. Now everyone can enjoy Easter and look forward to tucking into their chocolate eggs!”
