

Appeal to trace missing relatives of man who died earlier this month

Police are appealing for help in tracing relatives of a man who died earlier this month.

Robert Tierney (62) was found at his home on Breadalbane Street on Wednesday, April 1.

There are no suspicious circumstances surrounding his death and a report has been sent to the Procurator Fiscal.

Police are appealing to anyone who has information that can help them trace any surviving relatives to contact the non-emergency number, 101.