

Concern for missing 41-year-old woman

Police are appealing for information to help trace a 41-year-old woman who has been reported missing from Edinburgh.

Tracey Powrie was last seen in the North Bridge area at 6.45 pm on Monday evening.

She is described as 5ft 5in tall, slim build, with shoulder length blonde hair. She was last seen wearing a blue Adidas sweatshirt, blue jeans and pink trainers.

She is believed to frequent the city centre area of Edinburgh.

Inspector Stephen Rosie said: "Tracey is vulnerable due to current health issues and we are growing increasingly concerned for her welfare.

"Anyone who may have seen her since 6.45pm this evening, or who knows where she is , is urged to contact police as soon as possible."

Anyone with information is asked to contact Police Scotland as soon as possible on 101.
