

World Heritage Day 2015

World Heritage Day is celebrated around the world as you might expect. Here in Edinburgh as one of the UNESCO World Heritage sites we have much to celebrate – and take care of.

On Friday evening there is a free event at the City Chambers to discuss the value of heritage with Sorcha Carey the director of the Edinburgh Art Festival, Adam Wilkinson Director of Edinburgh World Heritage and a representative from Krakow which is a World Heritage City.

Booking details here.

You can also join Edinburgh World Heritage on Twitter and Facebook on 17 & 18 April when they will celebrate the day with stories of historic buildings in Edinburgh. The hashtag is #WorldHeritageDay.

More information here.