

EIFF 2015 – Opens with Robert Carlyle's The Legend of Barney Thomson

This year's Edinburgh International Film Festival will begin in a few weeks with the directorial debut from Robert Carlyle, The Legend of Barney Thomson which stars its director along with Emma Thompson and Ray Winstone.

[tweet_box design="default"]The Edinburgh Reporter asked our film writer Douglas Greenwood to pick what he was excited about having just perused the EIFF programme.[/tweet_box]

Here is what he said at the time (then he changed his mind and wrote about five different films here... so much to choose from you see!)
