

Five things you need to know today

The aftermath of the General Election

Today's Exams

Car Boot Sale

Murrayfield Community Council AGM

Something for Monday

The Edinburgh Reporter has been at the Edinburgh Election Count all night. Our election coverage was running live overnight here. What do you think of the Edinburgh results? Did you get what you voted for? We are open to comment below or indeed you may still find you are able to comment on the liveblog as we expect it to run till around 10am this morning unless there is anything else which needs to be reported!

***

Today you will be tested on Religious Moral and Philosophical studies . No this is nothing to do with the result of the election. It is the range of exams which Scottish students face today along with Music and Music Technology. Are you sitting these exams? Would you be prepared to share your thoughts with us after the exam is over? Get in touch! theedinburghreporter@gmail.com

***

There is a car boot sale tomorrow in the Colinton Library Car Park between 10:30 & 1:30pm. This is a Colinton Village Event and you can check the details of this and other events in Colinton here.

***

Murrayfield Community Council meets on 12 May when they will hold their AGM. They meet in Murrayfield Parish Church Centre at 2b Ormidale Terrace.

The draft minutes of last year's AGM are here

Loading...

Taking too long?

Reload document

|  Open in new tab

***

Sign up here for a daily email from The Edinburgh Reporter !
[mc4wp_form]

If you are reading this article on paper and would like to visit the website then scan the QR code above with a smartphone or tablet and you will be taken straight there.