

Five things you need to know today

General Election 2015

Your favourite public works of art

Your favourite cafés

Your news

Your favourite independent business

Only a few days of campaigning remain until the General Election on Thursday. Have you made your mind up yet? If you have any photos or video which you think characterise the General Election would you share them with us and our readers here?

If you haven't made up your mind then we hope that our video interviews with the great majority of the Edinburgh candidates might be a help to you.

Our videos are published on separate pages for each constituency:

Edinburgh West candidates are here.

Edinburgh South West candidates are here.

Edinburgh North & Leith candidates are here.

Edinburgh South candidates are here

Edinburgh East candidates are here.

The Edinburgh Reporter will be at the count on Thursday night at the Edinburgh International Conference Centre in the room which is photographed above and which will by then be full of press, candidates, council staff who are counting the votes all under the eagle eye of Chief Executive of the City of Edinburgh Council Dame Sue Bruce who is the Returning Officer for elections in Edinburgh.

We also have an EdinburghReportage storyboard where you can add your favourite public works of art. Ours is the giant Paolozzi foot outside St Mary's Cathedral at the top of Leith Walk. What's yours?

Have a look at the storyboard here

Do you have a favourite café in the city? Will you tell us about it? There is a storyboard here for you to share your best in words, photos and video.

Click here!

Have you got a news story? Then why not tell us all about it here? If you are particularly bothered about something happening in your area of the city then use our storyboard here to let us know.

Which Edinburgh independent business is your favourite? Why do you use a particular little shop or business for something important to you?

Tell us over here!

Our EdinburghReportage site is your site where you can upload your content. We can then use the story here on The Edinburgh Reporter which we hope will add to your enjoyment of our news.
