Man charged with wasting police time

Police have announced that a 35-year-old man has been arrested and charged with wasting police time.

This is in connection to an incident that was reported to police on Thursday, June 11.

He will appear in court at a later date.