

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2015 – All the King's Men

Award-winning all-male a cappella group return to the Fringe for their sixth consecutive year taking you on a journey from retro classics to Top 40 hits Tight vocal harmonies and signature dance moves from this internationally celebrated group have been enjoyed by audiences across the globe, from South Korea to Italy and the USA. Already 'heavyweights' (Telegraph) of London's West End, this year saw All the King's Men make their Broadway debut. The only British a cappella group to have reached the finals of the International Championships of Collegiate A Cappella in New York City for a third time, their latest EP is available on iTunes.

Having proved themselves on the international stage, All the King's Men are ready to entertain and charm discerning Edinburgh audiences once again. These world class vocalists cater for every musical taste in a light-hearted production for the whole family to enjoy. Skilfully combining musical excellence and infectious energy in their performances, they perform original arrangements of a wide variety of popular tunes ranging from Ike and Tina Turner to Sia and Sam Smith. One thing is guaranteed: the audience will leave smiling and

entertained.
