

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2015 – Tania Edwards: Electrifying

Tania Edwards brings her hotly anticipated and hilarious new show 'Electrifying' to Edinburgh Festival Fringe this year.

Tania wants to know why people think they can stop others having their say – and how she can shut them up. You could call her argumentative but obviously she'd disagree with you: Tania is out to uncover the truth – and she's made up all the facts she needs to find it. 'Electrifying' talks context and canned laughter in a joke-packed exploration of offence.

Tania Edwards is a stand-up comedian (BBC1, Radio 4), and writer (BBC 2 – Mock the Week, Apres Ski, Channel 4 – Stand Up For The Week, Twit of the Year, Radio 4 – The Unbelievable Truth). Tania was a finalist in the Hackney Empire, Amused Moose, Leicester Square, Latitude, and Funny Women competitions.
