

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2015 – Tom Toal in Sunshine on Bexleyheath

Tom Toal returns to the 2015 Edinburgh Festival Fringe with his most personal show yet with 'Sunshine on Bexleyheath'.

Following on from last year's hit show 'Prequel' Tom's performances recount his real life experiences and have consistently been hailed for their honest narratives.

Having moved back to his hometown with his family in tow, this is a hilarious and moving show as Tom deals with the light and dark that life throws at us in his own unique way of viewing the world. Now a Dad, Tom has a new outlook and one that he is keen to share with his views on internet sexism, illness, travelling, his daughter's chances of making it as a battle rapper and will finally answer the question "What is love?"

Tom Toal in Sunshine on Bexleyheath

Weds 5th – Fri 7th August (Previews)

Saturday 8th – Sunday 30th August

Pleasance Courtyard, This

8:30pm (60 mins)

Tickets £6 – £10.50

<http://www.pleasance.co.uk/event/tom-toal-sunshine-bexleyheath>

Submitted by Live Nation

