

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2015 – Will Seaward's Spooky Midnight Ghost Stories II

Blood! Ghouls! Creaky doors! Wailing! What could possibly be better?

Edinburgh's favourite late night, ghost-flavoured, comedy storytelling show is back! After a smash-hit five star run at the Gilded Balloon last year, Will Seaward's mighty fearsome comedy ghoststravaganza returns for a second year, with completely new tales and EVEN MORE GHOSTS! Hurrah!!

Join Will on the stroke of midnight for a mighty dose of late-night torch-wielding comedy spookiness ...
IF YOU DARE!

Not suitable for exorcists.

Described by critics as "a dandy Hagrid" and "a cross between Stephen Fry, Alan Davies and the BFG, Will has taken five star comedy shows to the Gilded Balloon for the last two years ('Will Seaward's Socialist Fairytales' and 'Will Seaward's Spooky Midnight Ghost Stories'). He's an award-winning comedian and an award-nominated actor, and many years ago was the creator of the notorious 'Bouncy Castle Hamlet'. He'll also be attempting to transmute base metals into gold at the Gilded Balloon this year at 13.45.
