

Edinburgh Festival Fringe – Nick Hall to make character debut

Noun (Doh-dek-uh-hee-drun). Definition; a one-man character comedy from the brain of Nick Hall.

NICK HALL: DODEKAHEDRON

Underbelly George Square

August 5 – 31 (not 19) @ 5.30pm

‘Brilliant’ The Times

Sketch comedian, stand-up and improviser Nick Hall brings his highly anticipated debut character show to the 2015 Edinburgh Fringe this August. In this fast-paced, energetic and hilarious hour, Nick introduces you to a cavalcade of riotous characters, including obnoxious TV presenter Ken Kavanagh (star of consumer affairs TV show ‘Watch Out!’), Shakespearian grandee Liam St Charles, Edinburgh Fringe newbie Edison Coolridge (alumni of the Milwaukee People’s Theatre Academy), fiendish Nazi scientist Dr Oetker, and Hollywood Megastar Hugh Jackman (with his late night acting class – ‘Huge Acting with Hugh Jackman!’).

Nick’s captivating and inventive style has already marked him out as one to watch. Since 2013 he’s reached the semi-finals of So You Think You’re Funny, beaten the Gong at The Comedy Store, beaten the Blackout at Up the Creek, and won the New Act Night at the Comedy Café.

Nick is also a member of the critically acclaimed and award-winning sketch group The Three Englishmen, as seen on BBC2, BBC3, and BBC Radio 4.

Nick has written for ITV2 and BBC Radio 4, and has his own sitcom script in development. He is also the regular compere of cult movie night Hot Tub Cinema, and hit football show Comedy Commentary. Nick will also be appearing in Adam Riches is Coach Coach at The Pleasance (5-30 August).
