

Today at Edinburgh Art Festival

There will be an artist talk at Stills 23 Cockburn Street from 1-2pm. Booking is essential for the talk to be given by kennardphillipps who will explain their works' engagement with current social political issues through art and activism. Working with events as they happen rather than in retrospect.

They will show images describing the different materials they use and the processes which they employ depending on where the art work will be located. Argument and debate is at the core of their practice!

Booking via Eventbrite Free but book in advance.

Curators Talk Hanne Darboven : und, und, und

At the Talbot Rice Gallery at 4pm for an hour curators from the Hanna Darboven Foundation and the Talbot Rice Gallery will discuss accepting anything among everything. From the development of this challenging exhibition to Darboven's legacy as one of the twentieth century's most idiosyncratic conceptual artists. The talk will include discussion of time, music and history.

Admission free.
