

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2015 Review – Willie and Sebastian *****

A new play by Ian Pattison which is darkly comic and depressing in equal measure.

Splendid performances by Andy Gray and Grant Stott bring these two real life reprobates to life.

Vain and drug-addled the pair squabble over a shared girlfriend, but thankfully she has the good sense to leave them both!

Really worth a view and I think a Fringe First may be on the way.

Tickets here

Submitted by Lynne Crossan