Free but booking is required and may be made by emailing rsvp@edinburghartfestival.com. Guzik's exhibition Holoturian is at Trinity Apse until 30th August 2015 as part of Edinburgh Art Festival.

Cuento Ballena
2008 (c) Ariel
Guzik

Artist's Performance: Ariel Guzik – Holoturian. A unique opportunity to hear the Mexican artist perform live in a specially devised set combining electronic music with field recordings of whales and dolphins. 7pm, Trinity Apse, Chalmers Close, High Street. Free but booking is required and may be made via eventbrite here.

✖ Janis MacKay: Wild Song. The award-winning author and storyteller presents her new novel, written while she was living on an island in Finland as a writer in residence. Through live storytelling, Janis will share how 13 year old Niilo overcomes his fears, learns about storytelling and surviving on a desert island, and discovers the ancient Saami custom of joiking – a form of singing to help us remember who we are. For ages 8-14. 2.30pm, Storytelling Court, Scottish Storytelling Centre, 43-45 High Street. Tickets cost £5/£3 and may be purchased in person, by calling the Box Office on 0131 556 9579 or online here.

The Art of Giving: a mixed exhibition of work by local ✖ artists, including Tommy Fitchet, Ros Was-O'Donnell, Mary Tully, Anna Smith, Liz McHugh and Jamie Johnson. All art is for sale, and 40% of all sale proceeds will go to International Voluntary Service. 10am-4pm, Undercroft Cafe, St Andrew's & St George's West Church, 13 George Street. Ends 31st August 2015. There will be an opening gala, with an opportunity to meet the artists, on 8th August from 3pm to 7pm.

✖ Celtic Summer School: Inventing Scotland. How did Scotland come to be? Who and what made it a geography, a nation and a society? And who are the Scots? A session led by Donald Smith. 11am, Scottish Storytelling Centre, 43-45 High Street. Tickets cost £7/£5 and may be purchased in person, by calling the Box Office on 0131 556 9579 or online here. The Celtic Summer School runs from today until 7th August 2015; you can buy tickets for individual events, or save money with a day or weekly pass – see the Centre's website for details.

No booking required; just come along!

Marvin Gaye Chetwynd, Home Made Tasers, Studio 231, New Museum, New York 2011-12. Courtesy of the artist and Sadie Coles HQ.

Marvin Gaye Chetwynd: The King Must Die. Known for her deliberately shambolic and lo-fi performances, Marvin Gaye Chetwynd's new work The King Must Die explores the Ancient Greek cult of the Mother Goddess; an intense and supremely pagan celebration of femininity and female power. The performance will require some audience participation. For ages 16+. 2pm, Old Royal High School, Regent Road. Free but booking is essential and may be made via eventbrite here. Further performances will take place on various dates throughout August. Part of Edinburgh Art Festival.

 Garage Presents Her Wilderness: a film by Frank Mosley. Her Wilderness weaves an elliptical, minimalist narrative of a lost, wandering child in the wake of an affair that may or may not have happened. 2.30pm or 4pm, GARAGE, Northumberland Street North West Lane. Free: part of Edinburgh Art Festival. GARAGE is a unique, DIY, not-for-profit art space. The film will also be shown at the same times on Sunday 2nd August.

Image (c) Derek Michael Besant

Edinburgh Printmakers: Derek Michael Besant. A lecture on the Canadian artist's concept for his new exhibition In Other Words... and for the public art facade integration at Castle Mill Works, Fountainbridge, along with four other related projects that draw from public collaboration in other cities.

A fascinating insight into the artist's response to the heritage of Castle Mill Works (formerly North British Rubber Co HQ) and how this shaped, informed and inspired the work, which was commissioned by Edinburgh Printmakers. 2-3pm, Edinburgh Printmakers, Union Street. Free, all welcome, but tickets are required and may be obtained via eventbrite here.

 Celtic Summer School: Patrick Geddes. Geddes harnessed the idea of evolution to consciousness, culture and community; he is a 21st century inspirer, and the person who sparked Scotland's modern renaissance. Learn more with Mairi McFadyen. 1pm, Scottish Storytelling Centre, 43-45 High Street. Tickets cost £6/£4 and may be purchased in person, by calling the Box Office on 0131 556 9579 or online here. The Celtic Summer School runs from today until 7th August 2015; you can buy tickets for individual events, or save money with a day or weekly pass – see the Centre's website for details.

Modern Art and Scotland's Masterpieces: artist Lynda Frame  invites you to explore abstract and modern works (still life, portraiture, sea, land and urban scapes) in the gallery's vast collection, make your own sketches then create your own special masterpiece in colour. 10am-3pm (bring packed lunch), City Art Centre, 2 Market Street. Tickets cost £4 and must be booked in advance via the Usher Hall Box Office, in person, by calling 0131 228 1155 or online here. Please note that this workshop is intended for children and adults to experience together; children must be accompanied by at least one paying adult, and no child should be booked into a workshop alone.

Back to Basics Jazz Quintet: 'swing is king' from this troupe of well-established jazzers; classic/modern/mainstream jazz, plus 'Back To Where It All Came From' New Orleans Roots and Dixieland sound. image (c) Sarah Hardie

Sarah Hardie: songs for someone who isn't there. An evening of 'lullabies', performances of song and poetry, through the streets of Edinburgh, featuring artists Ed Atkins, David Austen, Marco Godoy and Sarah Hardie, and poet Crispin Best. These city-wide 'lullabies' represent not the idealised togetherness of typical lullabies, but rather the pained isolation of our contemporary age of broken encounters, the lover's hope, materialised in song, against the stony silence of public space today. 9-9.40pm, meet at corner of Chambers Street and West College Street, Old College, University of Edinburgh. Free but booking is required and may be made via eventbrite here. Part of Edinburgh Art Festival.

✖ Summer Storytime: There Was A Wee Lassie Who Swallowed A Midgie. Come and listen to this tale by Rebecca Colby, and join in arts and activities related to the story. 3pm, Waterstones George Street, 83 George Street.
