Hearts today launched their new official 'third' shirt –a new design which has the names of more than 8,000 fans who pledged – and continue to pledge – donations to the Foundation of Hearts.

The jersey, launched in association with the Foundation of Hearts is now available for pre-order from the Hearts club shop and website. The shirts will be in-store from 15th November 2015 and will be priced at £45

Fans who order on or before 15th October 2015 will be issued with a signed certificate and be entered into a competition to play for the Hearts Legends team. Three lucky winners will be given the chance to line up next to some Hearts heroes from yesteryear.

Hearts owner Ann Budge told the official Hearts website "Everyone here at the club, who has been involved in producing this amazing shirt, is thrilled with the final product. This has been another real team effort between the club and FOH and we were delighted to work together to produce something which truly recognises the contribution made by the pledgers.

Foundation of Hearts chairman Brian Cormack said: "This is an immensely proud and emotional moment for everyone associated with the Foundation of Hearts, and we are absolutely delighted to see this project come to fruition.

"This shirt does not just feature a list of fans' names; it pays fitting tribute to the 8,000 and more supporters who have together saved this great club."
