

Surgeon's Hall Museum reopens today

At 10am this morning the bandages come off and the Surgeon's Hall Museum will reopen to the public.

"Marvel at the specimens in our collections as they tell the history of medicine from 1505 to the present day. "

Professor Sue Black, Professor of Anatomy and Forensic Anthropology, Centre for Anatomy and Human Identification at the University of Dundee, and acclaimed author Val McDermid will welcome visitors to the Museums with a keynote introductory lecture in the new Anatomy Theatre.

The Edinburgh Sketcher will be in the museum all day sketching what he sees.

Tickets here. The Museum is open 7 days a week. Admission is £6 for adults, £3.50 for concessions. Please see their events page for more information on the relaunch events.
