

Hundreds protest outside City Chambers this morning

✘ Union representatives were loud in their protests against proposed job cuts this morning outside the City Chambers joined by around 200 or so members of council staff.

UNISON Protesters outside City Chambers in 2015

The City of Edinburgh Council's Finance and Resources committee meets this morning to discuss the possibility of using compulsory redundancy measures if insufficient numbers of staff take up voluntary packages.