

Police appeal to trace missing West Midlands' man

Police are appealing for information to help trace missing West Midlands' man Keith Neilson.

The 46-year-old, from Slade Road in the Erdington area of Birmingham, was last seen at around 2pm on Monday 28 September and reported missing on 4 October when an investigation was immediately launched.

Keith is described as white, 5'8" tall and slim. He has long brown hair with dreadlocks, a goaty beard, brown eyes and wears glasses. He has a tattoo of a spider on his left hand. He is known to routinely wear cargo pants, large black boots and a black leather jacket with a hood.

Keith who has never been missing before has connections to the Edinburgh and East Lothian area of Scotland.

If anyone who has seen him then they should call West Midlands Police immediately on 101. Alternatively people can leave information anonymously by calling the Missing Persons charity on 116 000.
