

Christmas gift idea – Membership for the National Museum of Scotland

Anyone with a membership to the National Museum of Scotland can enjoy fantastic savings with free entry to the museums, exhibitions and big days out, as well as discovering amazing treasures and inspiring stories for a whole year with membership as a gift for Christmas.

During 2016 they will be able to enjoy the opening of ten new galleries at the National Museum of Scotland, blockbuster exhibition Celts, two newly restored hangars at the National Museum of Flight, family-friendly exhibition Monkey Business and all-round favourite Wildlife Photographer of the Year.

Membership starts from just £37 and National Museums Scotland offers two options as festive gifts.

Find out more here.

