

Travel advice for Hibs' fans heading to Ibrox on Monday

Hibs' supporters travelling to Ibrox Stadium for the Scottish Championship fixture against Rangers FC on Monday 28th December 2015 (3pm kick-off) will occupy the Govan West Corner at the stadium entering via turnstiles 76 and 77.

Fans are advised that searching is likely to take place. This is a condition of entry to the stadium and fans are advised by the club to cooperate fully with police officers and stewards. Supporters are also advised that in the interest of their safety they are likely to be held back at the conclusion of the match and public address announcements will be made.

The club have also asked that any Hibernian supporters not in possession of a match ticket for the allocated section at Ibrox Stadium do not travel to the match. Any Hibernian FC supporter found in an area of the stadium identified for the home support will be ejected and may face further sanctions by the club.

Away parking is available for coaches and cars in an area off Broomloan Road. This is exclusively for Hibs' supporters and a charge of £12 for coaches and £7 for cars applies. Supporters choosing to utilise this facility should follow the directions of stewards.

Supporters are also reminded that traffic in and around Ibrox Stadium is likely to be busy and additional traffic on the motorway due to the festive period is also likely so they should allow plenty of time for their journey.
