

COMPETITION – Win a Valentine's Day date at Paradise Island for two

WIN A VALENTINE'S DAY DATE AT PARADISE ISLAND ADVENTURE GOLF AND HOT FLAME IN LIVINGSTON

On the hunt for an adventurous date to celebrate Valentine's Day this year?

Paradise Island Adventure Golf has teamed up with The Edinburgh Reporter to offer one lucky reader the chance to win a date to remember at the indoor miniature golf centre and Hot Flame restaurant in Livingston Designer Outlet.

It could be love at first swing at the adventure golf leisure destination which features two 18-hole adventure golf courses set amidst a tropical island paradise.

Barnacle Bay is a fantastic course full of twists and turns through sea caves, designed to send the ball and player on a rollercoaster ride.

The Lost Lagoon course offers more adventurous explorers the chance to test their skills through a maze of obstacles and uneven terrain, as they travel through the monkey temple ruins.

Both courses culminate in the challenging 19th hole, where adventurers can win a free game pass.

Paradise Island Adventure Golf is the perfect place for couples old and new. Why not tee-off your relationship and beat those first date nerves by letting the game be the distraction and topic of conversation. Or for those looking to add a little fun into their relationship, then let your competitive side show with some friendly rivalry over the score.

And don't worry if you're not loved up this Valentine's Day, Paradise Island Adventure Golf is a fantastic place for fun with friends or family too.

The prize consists of two rounds of 18 holes of adventure golf and a £50 voucher to spend at Hot Flame restaurant, where the lucky winner can finish off their date and relax with some delicious food and drink.

For your chance to win, answer the question below by Wednesday 10 February 2016 at 12 noon.
