

Double award for Hibs' star John McGinn

Hibs midfielder John McGinn won two trophies at Sunday's 2016 Hibernian Player of the Year Awards Dinner, picking up the Player of the Year, sponsored by Caledonian Heating & Plumbing, and Players' Player of the Year, sponsored by Newtown Decor as recognition for his impressive debut season at the club

Liam Henderson collected the Young Player of the Year award, sponsored by Exsel Group, with Martin Boyle's strike against Livingston winning the Goal of the Season, sponsored by Newtown Refurbishment.

There was also recognition for Ryan Porteous and Jamie Gullan, who have both earned full time contracts with the Hibernian Elite Academy.

The Club would like to thank all supporters who attended Sunday night's event, and those who took the time to vote in the online polls.
