 Blackwell's Edinburgh Presents The Jewel by Catherine Czerkawska. A luscious historical novel about Robert Burns' wife, Jean Armour, The Jewel is set largely during the dramatic years of their courtship in Mauchline, their married life at Ellisland and in Dumfries, and Robert's early death, all against a background simmering with political intrigue and turmoil. This extraordinary marriage was passionate, tempestuous, and enduring against all odds, and its rocky course reveals Jean's indomitable strength and character. How she lived with, and frequently without, Scotland's most famous son tells us much about the life and times of Burns himself, and is a compelling story in itself. Catherine Czerkawska is a multi-award-winning novelist and playwright based in Scotland. 6.30pm, Tuesday 10th May, Blackwell's, South Bridge. To get your free ticket drop into the shop, call 0131 622 8222 or email events.edinburgh@blackwell.co.uk.  David Torrance – *EU Referendum 2016: A Guide for Voters. The EU referendum faces us with a decision that has profound implications, whatever the outcome. Feeling confused? Uncertain under a bombardment of contradictory and partisan views? Crying out for the information you need? Waterstones offers you an evening with David Torrance, author of EU Referendum 2016: A Guide for Voters. His clear, concise guide to the EU Referendum guide tackles the issues on everyone's mind: trade, migration, education, finance, risk, security and sovereignty. Departing from the Westminster-centric and partisan views that have dominated the debate, Torrance also looks at the implications of Brexit for Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland – and therefore for England. 6.30pm, Thursday 12th May, Waterstones West End, 128 Princes Street. Free tickets are available from the shop.

Blackwell's Edinburgh Presents Jamie Allinson: *The Struggle for the State in Jordan  Why do the states of the Arab world seem so unstable? Why do alliances between them and with outside powers change? Dr. Jamie Allinson holds a PhD in Politics and International Relations from the University of Edinburgh and is the university's Programme Director for MSc International Relations of the Middle East. He argues that the answer to these questions lies in the expansion of global capitalism in the Middle East, and by examining the attempts of Jordan to create foreign alliances during a time of upheaval and instability in the region, he offers wider conclusions concerning the nature of the interaction between state and society in the wider Middle East. 6pm, Friday 13th May, Blackwell's, South Bridge. To get your free ticket drop into the shop, call 0131 622 8222 or email events.edinburgh@blackwell.co.uk.
