

Our Pick of Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2016 – ONCE UPON A... And Beyond!

Founded by 5 actors based locally in Edinburgh and Fife, Pipe Up Productions creates opportunities for children to experience theatre in an interactive way. They believe that children should have an imaginative experience and leave feeling excited and encouraged to use their imaginations. They do not believe in children sitting passively during a performance. That is why they encourage audiences to Pipe Up and share their ideas which are then incorporated into the show.

☒ This August they return to the Edinburgh Fringe with the 4th instalment of "Once Upon A...", a series of children's theatre shows with a twist – the audience are just as much involved as the actors!

This year they are heading to Outer Space where they will discover the answer to the question – what is on the other side of the stars? Bravely go beyond your wildest imaginations and help our space heroes as they explore the wonderful world of the imagination.

Aimed at children aged 3-9 years old but suitable for kids 0-100. The show and venue are accessible for young children and those with disabilities.
