

Man detained after suspicious package found in Niddrie

Police have detained a 40-year-old man after a suspicious package was found at an address in Niddrie yesterday.

Specialist engineers from the EOD attended.

The surrounding homes were evacuated as a precaution while the engineers assessed the package.

They established it was not be a viable device and that it posed no threat to the public.