

2016 Edinburgh International Book Festival – 25th August p.m.

Another afternoon of 'no shows' at the allotted time, then all arriving at once. The poor press staff were running all over the place to try and find people. Did their best..... More than can be said for the sun. Music journalist, Paul Morley, graciously changed his mind and did appear on the grey carpet.

