

Two Edinburgh hospitality businesses shortlisted for awards

Two businesses run by locals are the only ones in Edinburgh to have been shortlisted in the Food & Travel Magazine Reader Awards.

The first is Wedgwood the Restaurant on the High Street. Run by Paul Wedgwood and his wife Lisa they are up against stiff competition from Michelin starred restaurants like L'enlume and Sat Bains who have five Michelin stars between them.

 Millers64 Bed and Breakfast is located in the heart of the city in an upgraded Pilrig Street Victorian house and run by Louise and Shona Clelland. They have both travelled extensively and hope to pass on some of the best hospitality they have experienced to their guests. They have a jar of freshly baked shortbread in every room!

If you feel you would like to support either of these businesses then you can vote for them here.
