

First Scotland call up for Hibs' star Abigail Harrison

Anna Signeul has announced her squad for the final match of the UEFA Women's EURO 2017 qualifying campaign against Iceland on Tuesday 20th September, kick-off 5pm (local time).

There is a first senior call-up for Hibernian forward – and former Scotland women's under-19 captain – Abigail Harrison, while Seattle Reign defender Rachel Corsie misses out due to injury.

Scotland are on the verge of sealing qualification for their first ever major tournament and currently sitting second in Group 1 behind leaders Iceland.

Scotland have confirmed a minimum of a place in the play-off, but could reach the finals without kicking a ball, depending on results in other groups on 15th and 16th September. The group winners and six best runners-up progress directly to the finals, with the last two second-placed teams entering the play-off.
