

ODEON Lothian Road is showing The Beatles: Eight Days a Week later this month

Edinburgh Beatles fans are invited to relive the magic of the Beatles 1964 show at ODEON Lothian Road, the same site the awesome foursome performed 52 years ago.

Beatlemania will once again hit Edinburgh with the release of the highly anticipated film, The Beatles: Eight Days A Week – The Touring Years which will be showing at ODEON Edinburgh Lothian Road from 15th September.

The eagerly-awaited film from Academy Award-winner Ron Howard explores how John, Paul, George and Ringo came together and created their music, revealing the inner workings of the band and how these four ordinary people became the most successful band in history.
