

Are you brave enough this Halloween?

The National Trust for Scotland (NTS) would like to invite you to Scotland's Georgian House in Charlotte Square to scare you out of your wits this Halloween!

The conservation charity has teamed up with Mercat Tours to offer brave souls a chance to 'perambulate with the poltergeists' at one of its most horribly historic houses, no 7 Charlotte Square.

There will be Halloween events across many venues owned by the NTS this October, all inspired by the horrible histories of its heritage sites.

You will be guided by ghosts 'from the other side' who will take you on an exclusive walk around the house telling you some gory tales as you go.

The tours run on 28 – 31 October at 6 and 8pm. Prices are £18 per adult and £10 per child.

Booking is essential through Mercat Tours via www.mercattours.com/online-booking.asp or by calling 0131 225 5445

Be warned – the tours score a spooktacular three on the Trust's Halloween petrifying poltometer rating of scariness, and are suitable for older children who must be accompanied by adults.
