

Donate today to win 3 ft tall cake tomorrow!

The Lord Provost the Rt Hon Donald Wilson now has a cake in the shape of Edinburgh Castle which has been donated to him for fundraising purposes.

Oak furnitureland opened a new store at Fort Kinnaird last weekend and the company handed over a splendid 3D creation to celebrate the store opening.

Bailie Elaine Aitken was on hand to take delivery of the castle and bring it back to the City Chambers. It is a sponge cake with buttercream filling and the buildings are made of rice krispie treats. 100 eggs were used to bake it and 10kg of icing sugar!

Bailie Aitken said at the store opening last weekend : “The new Oak Furniture Land store is a welcome investment in terms of job creation, and is a nice addition to the choice of shops for local residents.

“I am delighted to be opening the new superstore and I wish them every success for the future. The Edinburgh Castle cake donation is a wonderful gesture to support and highlight the One City Trust, established in 2003 from the Lord Provost’s Commission on Social exclusion.

“The Trust fulfils its mission by funding projects in areas of the city which tackle inequality and poverty and support social welfare, education and social inclusion. To find out more about the Trust or support with a donation visit www.onecity.org.uk.

If you would like to donate then click here to go to the Lord Provost's Virgin Money fundraising page.

The winner will be drawn tomorrow 5 October 2016!

The amazing Edinburgh Castle cake has been designed by Dalgety Bay based cake artist Lyndsey Lannie of Cakes by Lyndsey and CakeBomb. Lyndsey Lannie is famous for her sculpted cake creations. Some of her Scottish themed cake art includes a stunning Forth Rail Bridge cake and super-sized Tunnock's Tea Cakes.
