

Council consultation extended over this weekend

What should be done to improve the quality of life for people in your neighbourhood? What are the most important issues and what do you think needs to be done about them? The council wants you to tell them what you think and you now have till Monday to take part in the online consultation

How to take part

To comment, rate and put forward your own ideas and suggestions you register with your email address. (Click the image above)

Use the map to find your area and then scroll down and click on the link to your area.

The council will use your priorities, ideas and comments to help create a Locality Improvement Plan for your area.
