

Little Italy opening its doors tomorrow

The former police box opposite St Mary's Cathedral and John Lewis reopens tomorrow (24 November 2016) in its latest reincarnation as a food kiosk.

Giuliano Liano, from Rome, who has lived in Edinburgh since 2013, will serve soup, coffee, rolls, burgers and pasta from his red-painted mini-kitchen, appropriately named 'Little Italy'.

"Why did I come to Edinburgh? Because it's a very nice city," he says. "Am I worried about Brexit? No, not at all."

Photos and words by Robin Gauldie.