

Musselburgh has an extra racing day on Monday – and entry is FREE

Not content with the number of race days they already have Musselburgh Racecourse has told us this afternoon that they have an extra day for you.

Musselburgh Racecourse has stepped in to add an extra jumps fixture – with free entry – following an abandonment at Leicester due to firm ground.

The East Lothian course will race on Monday 14 November 2016 with a seven card fixture and prize money of £45,000.

Gates open at 11am and the first race has a provisional start time of 12.30pm.

Musselburgh Racecourse managing director, Bill Farnsworth, said: “With Leicester having to abandon on Monday we saw an opportunity to provide trainers and owners with an alternative. The ground at Musselburgh is good and there is some rain forecast over the weekend.”
