

Get ready for a wee quiet poetry slam in January

☒ Shore Poets have already held two Quiet Slams and they were so successful that they are going to hold another one at the end of January.

The event is open to ten performers or slammers who will all have to pay to get in, but who will get two performing opportunities. But the key ingredient will not necessarily be to speak loudly, rather to speak softly.

If you wish to enter then send an email to shorepoetsedinburgh@gmail.com and ask to be put on the list. The deadline is 15 January 2017.

The event will be held at the Outhouse on Broughton Street at 7:00pm on 29 January 2017.

There will be cake!
