

Dining out – Scottish twist for Curry Club launch

The interior of The Raj which will be transformed for the night of February 2

Tommy Miah's Raj restaurant launches a Curry Club on February 2 by taking a leaf out of one of Scotland's favourite cartoon families, The Broons.

An evening of entertainment and food is promised with recipes from Maw Broon's Cookbook.

The dishes will have an Indian twist with Scotland's self-acclaimed Curry King, Tommy Miah, supervising.

Selected tracks from The Broons CD will accompany the meal.

The Raj, now relocated in Edinburgh's Blackhall area, will be transformed with tartan tablecloths, Broons memorabilia and much more.
