

Family tribute to Alan McBain

The family of a man who died following a road traffic collision on an unclassified road between the B800 and Standingstone Road near to Dalmeny on Monday 30th January have issued a photograph through Police Scotland.

Sixty-year-old Alan McBain was a pedestrian and died after a collision with a blue mini. His 58-year-old wife was seriously injured in the collision. She remains in hospital in a serious condition.

Alan's family have asked for privacy to be allowed to grieve, begin to come to terms with their loss and support Alan's wife Dawn in hospital.

Constable Denise Humphrey said: "Our sincere condolences go to Alan's family and friends at this very sad time.

"We are still keen to speak to anyone who witnessed the collision or who has information that can assist us with our investigation.

"Anyone who hasn't so far contacted us is asked to call 101 to speak to a road policing officer."
