

Best Wedding Magician in the UK is right here in Edinburgh

Edinburgh magician, Chris Cook has been named the best Wedding Magician in the UK in the Bridebook Wedding Awards 2017.

As well as being crowned the UK's best Wedding Magician, Chris was also awarded the Highly Commended prize in the Wedding Entertainment Supplier of the Year category.

"Performing at weddings is my speciality so I'm really pleased that Bridebook recognised all my hard work" said Chris.

"Having a magician at your wedding might sound a bit unusual to most couples" says Chris.

"My job is to help all the guests relax, laugh and have fun. I'm all about creating special memories that people will remember forever."

Chris has been performing at weddings for ten years. He first moved to Edinburgh after falling in love with the city during the Edinburgh Fringe Festival.

"Weddings have always been my favourite events to perform at. Sometimes wedding guests don't know each other and are a little reluctant to join in the celebrations. I make sure everyone is ready to party."

"As well as performing at weddings throughout Scotland, Chris also often performs at corporate parties and private events.

The awards were initially voted on by members of the public and the final winners chosen by Bridebook's expert judging panel.

Bridebook said that “with so many incredible and talented suppliers, picking the final winners was difficult to say the least.”<

To see videos of Chris performing and book him for your event, check out www.chriscookmagic.co.uk