

Scottish Chamber Orchestra announce programme for 2017-18

✖ The Scottish Chamber Orchestra have launched their exciting new programme for the remainder of this year and the beginning of next.

Robin Ticciati has announced this is his last year as Principal Conductor and he hands over the baton so that he can enjoy visiting the orchestra and their concerts as a guest in future.

There is a lot of Dvořák, a bit of Beethoven and Bach at Christmas with the SCO Chorus. Too much to take in at once so here is the programme below and an introductory video:
