

The former Portobello High School...going, going...

But not yet quite gone.

The demolition of the old Portobello High School will take a couple of weeks, and although the process was begun this week it was not without a little delay.

There was a problem with a hose on one of the machines, so when we visited on Thursday there was little to see, and certainly no moving machinery.

But Geoff Pearson of Northfield and Willowbrae Community Council has a bird's eye view and was on hand to capture this video yesterday:
