

What's on in Edinburgh – Grant Stott Behind the Mic

Grant Stott may have hung up his Radio Forth mic but it does not mean that he has gone silent!

He has been heard on BBC Radio Scotland recently and now he is bringing his one man show Behind the Mic to the King's and Brunton Theatres.

This is a very funny and technically sophisticated show with Stott spilling all about himself and his journey from being a policeman to panto baddie.

With his usual style encouraging a bit of banter from the audience each show can be a little different, but it was very funny when we saw him last year during the Fringe.

The show is directed by his panto pal Andy Gray and Ryan Dewar. It is produced by The Gilded Balloon and will tour Scotland until 7 May 2017.

Saturday 22 April – The Brunton Theatre, Ladywell Way, Musselburgh, EH21 6AA

Performance start time: 19.30 / Ticket prices: £15/£13

Box office: 0131 665 2240

http://www.thebrunton.co.uk/events/event/795/grant_stotts_tales_from_behind_the_mic

Sunday 07 May – Kings Theatre, 2 Leven St, Edinburgh, EH3 9LQ

Performance start time: 19.30 / Ticket prices: £17.50 /£15.50

Box Office: 0131 529 6000
/ <http://www.edtheatres.com/grantstott>