

Women in Journalism Scotland – training event

A Stronger Voice for Women on Air

There is still time to sign up for A Stronger Voice for Women on Air on Friday 16th June from 12 noon- 6pm.

A day of coaching has been organised, thanks to BBC and STV, aimed at women journalists working in all media platforms who would like some training and advice on taking part in radio and television interviews.

The fee is £20 which not only gets you entry to the event but also entitles you to membership of Women in Journalism Scotland and an opportunity to attend further networking, training and campaigning events for women who work in the media. Existing members can attend free. Details will be emailed direct.

To sign up and for more information CLICK HERE.