

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2017 – A Drinking Game!

Our Pick of Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2017 – A Drinking Game!

Love to watch films? Love to drink? Come see your favourite cult classics read live and turned into an interactive drinking game! Direct from the Big Apple, A Drinking Game crash lands in Edinburgh this August.

Once a month, at Littlefield in Brooklyn, the A Drinking Game NYC comedy troupe lovingly recreates cult classic films for live audiences with drinks in hand. Each film comes with a list of buzzwords and phrases. When one is spoken, a bell rings and everybody drinks, including the actors. The actors also have to drink any time their character's name is said, so things can get a bit wacky as they juggle scripts, props, beers, and mishaps!

Some of New York's finest improv actors are bring this late night evening of mayhem to Edinburgh – so come and see Shit-Faced Shakespeare for movie nerds!

A Drinking Game! Laughing Horse @ The Golf Tavern, (Venue 114) 3-20 (not 13th) Aug | 22.00-24:00. For ages 18+. Free, non ticketed.
