

Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2017 – Nick Cope's Family Songbook

With supporters like Stewart Lee and Lucy Porter, Nick Cope's Family songbook is well worth a visit for all the family at the 2017 Fringe.

"Nick Cope is the indie-surrealist kids' entertainer Robyn Hitchcock and Syd Barrett, foolishly distracted by cult status, never were." Stewart Lee 2016

(A few interesting facts that may interest you Nick Cope is the son of Actor Kenneth Cope . Nick was the singer in The Candyskins . Superstar fringe favourite fans Stewart lee and Lucy porter.)

This is Nick's 3rd visit to the Fringe and to the Gilded Balloon. Although aimed at the 0-7's, the show is for all the family.

Nick's superbly crafted songs, delivered in a non-patronizing and humorous style; touch on all aspects of family life in this unique family concert.

Over the last 9 years Nick has established a fanatical army of little and not-so-little fans from all over the world. Bringing his own brand of acoustic folk to the world of children's music, Nick performs at schools, theatres and festivals all over the UK. His CD's sell all over the world and his animated videos (which he creates with the help of his son Burt) have to be seen to be believed! Especially "The Baby's Done a Poo!!"
