Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2017 — Service!

Service! - A live sitcom

A power vacuum of biblical magnitude has opened up in the restaurant of a four star hotel. Each member of the service staff will hatch despicable schemes against the others in an epic battle to become restaurant manager... a battle that will require four very neat episodes to win. From the writer of Edinburgh Fringe hit Adrift, this fast-paced, foul-mouthed, relentless comedy blitzkrieg is a modern classic.

A co-production between Clock Tower Theatre Company and Infini Productions, Service! has been delighting audiences since the first episode was premiered in 2013. Since then, audiences have eagerly anticipated each new episode, culminating in a sell out run in the 2016 Cardiff Fringe Theatre Festival.

The entire first series of 'Service!', comprised of 4 episodes, is coming to Edinburgh for its Fringe debut.

The 4 episodes will be performed in 50 minute pairs, back-to-back, with episodes 1 & 2 performed on alternate dates to episodes 3 & 4. Although the episodes are chronological, like all the best sitcoms, each episode stands alone and can be enjoyed in any order. We guarantee that you will return for a second helping!
