

Police investigation underway after body found in woods near Morningside

A police investigation is underway after a body was found in woods on Morningside Terrace, near Millar Crescent at 2.20pm on Friday afternoon.

Officers are currently attempting to identify the body.

A Police Scotland spokesman said: "Police in Edinburgh can confirm a body was discovered in a narrow wooded area on Morningside Terrace, near to Millar Crescent.

"Enquires are at an early stage to establish the person's identity and the full circumstances surrounding their death.

"A report will be submitted to the procurator fiscal."