

Another outdoor terrace where you can enjoy the summer

With summer fast approaching, multi-award winning brasserie cocktail lounge and bar Dine launches its long-awaited Outdoor Terrace tomorrow. Offering al fresco drinks in the sun and into the evening, Dine has joined forces with legendary champagne house Charles Heidsieck to create a luxurious drinking experience for the Edinburgh social scene.

The 40-seat patio area will also feature a number of armchairs for lingering drinks, imposing champagne trunks housing a variety of reserves and an exclusive limited edition Champagne Charlie Menu featuring a full list of Charles Heidsieck champagnes, a Champagne Charlie Signature cocktail and some complementary bar bites such as designed to enhance flavours. Other cocktails, wines and beers will be available and there will be dedicated staff outdoors to look after guests.

Dine's executive chef and co-owner Stuart Muir commented on the launch: "The season for summer drinks is upon us and we wanted to offer an atmospheric and luxurious area for guests to enjoy, whether they are taking time out from the hustle and bustle of the city centre or relaxing before or after a show. We're delighted to be partnering with Charles Heidsieck and showcasing their impressive range of brut reserves."

Situated above the Traverse Theatre and next door to the Usher Hall, Dine is ideally located for those enjoying the summer festivities as well as locals in search of relaxed brasserie-style food, champagne or seasonal cocktails whilst soaking up the atmosphere or indulging in some people-watching. The Outdoor Terrace on Cambridge Street is a stone's throw away from Princes Street and the West End.

Dine opened its doors in November 2015 and offers relaxed brasserie-style dining at affordable prices, with inventive market menus designed using fresh, local, seasonal and sustainable produce. From the opulent interior of polished timbers, sleek copper trimmed lighting, sumptuous wall coverings, tactile fabrics in earthy colours and striking circular atrium with life size apple tree to the intimate cocktail lounge and bar, Dine epitomises relaxed luxury.
