

Hearts News Update

Hearts have announced a special offer for season ticket holders for the club's forthcoming Ladbrokes Premiership games at BT Murrayfield. As a 'thank-you' to fans inconvenienced by the necessity of moving the games against Aberdeen, St Johnstone and Rangers from Tynecastle to the home of Scottish rugby, season ticket holders will be able to bring someone with them for up to 50% off the usual price.

The club has also announced a mini season ticket offer for those games which will be £40 for adults and £15 for children.

Existing season ticket holders will receive a printed match ticket for each game. These will be posted out from the Hearts Tickets Office alongside a map of Murrayfield showing seating areas and access routes. Tickets for Ambulant Disabled, Wheelchair Users and those visually impaired will have their tickets posted at the same time.

Those purchasing a mini season ticket can choose to collect their tickets from the Hearts ticket office or have them delivered. The games in question are:

Hearts v Aberdeen. Saturday 9th September, 3pm

Hearts v St Johnstone. Saturday 21st October, 3pm

Hearts v Rangers. Saturday 28th October, 12:30pm

Full details are available at the official Hearts website.

Meanwhile, Hearts interim Head Coach Jon Daly will remain in charge for Saturday's visit to Motherwell in the Ladbrokes Premiership. A number of candidates linked to the vacant position at Tynecastle – Billy Davies, Dougie Freedman and former England manager Steve McClaren – have withdrawn their interest. Former Hearts captain Steven Pressley remains the bookies favourite to land the job but there is a growing feeling among the Hearts support that should Jon Daly lead his team to victory at Fir Park, the former Dundee United striker will be given the role on a permanent basis.

Finally, Hearts Ladbrokes Premiership game at Partick Thistle on Saturday 23rd September will have a 4.00pm kick-off. This is due to the Rangers-Celtic game kicking off at 12 noon on the same day and Police Scotland have requested the Thistle-Hearts game kick off an hour later than usual to assist them with crowd control.
